RE: THE WAR COLLEGE – CHICAGO

Dear Friends:

I am excited to announce that this fall, The Metropolitan Division will initiate our inaugural session of The War College – Chicago. We would like you to prayerfully consider whether or not you should be a part of this historic undertaking.

The War College is a one-year, intensive training and discipleship school with a strong emphasis on incarnational living. Students will have regular class times where you will learn more about The Salvation Army's roots, personal discipleship, prayer, personal evangelism, as well as numerous other topics.

Probably one of the most challenging – yet by far the most rewarding – aspects of The War College is the fact that you will be living sacrificially among many of the people you will be reaching out to and serving in practical ways. From my personal experience of launching a new Corps for The Salvation Army, there is nothing more exciting than forming new relationships with unchurched, pre-Christian people. I believe you will find this to be true for yourself as well.

The most important thing for you to do right now is...PRAY! First, ask God if He wants you to participate in The War College this year. Really seek to hear His voice in this regard. Then, if He is stirring your heart in this direction, get in contact with us via our webpage, www.thewarcollegechicago.com and request further information.

I am praying for you right now, and asking God to bless your life and ministry today!

Guarding His Truth,

Marc S. Johnson
